ABSTRACT This memo is a reply to a memo from the Chief, ICAPS, to the DCI on Feb. '48 (ITEM 16). It states that ICAPS did not consult with ORE in writing his memo and that subsequently the fact that ORE is tardy in producing IM's following cumbersome regulations is not brought out. The memo also questions ICAPS definition of national intelligence as defined in the Dulles Report, saying that CIA is responsible for the "final synthesis" not just coordinated intelligence. This statement is backed up by quoting the National Sec. Act, NSCID #1 and 3, and DCI 3/1 all of which say the only coordination between agencies is at the exchange level not the evaluation level. Also discussed is the Global Survey Group** functions and the problems involved in coordination with State in the global area. Finally the RE and CIA Series are discussed and defined as responsible synthesis and interpretations rather than routine joint intelligence.
